Information for Applicants Requesting an Investigation/Review

It is recommended that you read this information before completing the Request for an Investigation/Review Form.

The Repatriation Medical Authority

The Repatriation Medical Authority (the Authority) operates under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004.

The Authority is comprised of five eminent medical practitioners and medical scientists. It meets regularly to determine Statements of Principles concerning different kinds of injury, disease or death for the purposes of the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 (the MRCA).

The Authority can investigate a particular kind of injury, disease or death of its own initiative or upon request by persons or organisations identified in the MRCA.

Who can Lodge a Request?

- ◆ a person eligible to make a claim for compensation under section 319 of the MRCA;
- ◆ an organisation representing veterans, Australian mariners or members of the Forces;
- ◆ an organisation representing members or their dependants;
- ◆ the Repatriation Commission.

What Can the Authority be Requested to Do Under s370CH of the MRCA?

- ◆ an investigation in respect of a particular kind of injury, disease or death with a view to making a Statement of Principles; or
- ◆ to review a decision not to make a Statement of Principles; or
- ◆ to review some or all of the contents of an existing Statement of Principles.

When Can a Request for an Investigation or Review be Lodged?

No time limits are applicable in relation to the above requests.

Can a Request for an Investigation be Declined by the Authority?

Yes. There are a number of situations where the Authority can decide to decline to carry out an investigation in respect of a particular kind of injury, disease or death. These are contained in s370CF of the MRCA, and are as follows:

s370CF

- If it is less than 12 months since the Authority:
 - determined or amended a Statement of Principles; or
 - declared that it does not propose to make or amend a Statement of Principles in respect of that particular kind of injury, disease or death; or
 - the Authority thinks there are no grounds for such a review; or
 - the request does not state the grounds on which the review is sought; or
 - the Authority considers that the request does not identify sufficient relevant information to support the grounds on which the review is sought or to otherwise justify the review; or
 - the request is vexatious or frivolous.

As the Authority must rely upon “sound medical-scientific evidence” as defined in s 370CA of the MRCA (refer below) in the determination of Statements of Principles, it is important to bear this definition in mind when providing any information for the Authority to consider.

s 370CA - Information about a particular kind of injury, disease or death is taken to be sound medical-scientific evidence if:

- (a) the information:
 - (i) is consistent with material relating to medical science that has been published in a medical or scientific publication and has been, in the opinion of the Repatriation Medical Authority, subjected to a peer review process; or
 - (ii) in accordance with generally accepted medical practice, would serve as the basis for the diagnosis and management of a medical condition; and

- (b) in the case of information about how that kind of injury, disease or death may be caused - meets the applicable criteria for assessing causation currently applied in the field of epidemiology.
